DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is a small two and one half story frame house, similar in design to the house next door, 313 Mill Street. It has a gable roof and a three bay front with a one story porch. The gable has a three part window and is ornamented by imbricated shingle. The porch, which extends around the south side of the house where it has been enclosed, is supported by Doric columns. There is a row of dentils below the cornice of the porch. The north end bay on the second story is recessed, forming a balcony in front of it with two columns and a small ballustrade.

315 Mill Street

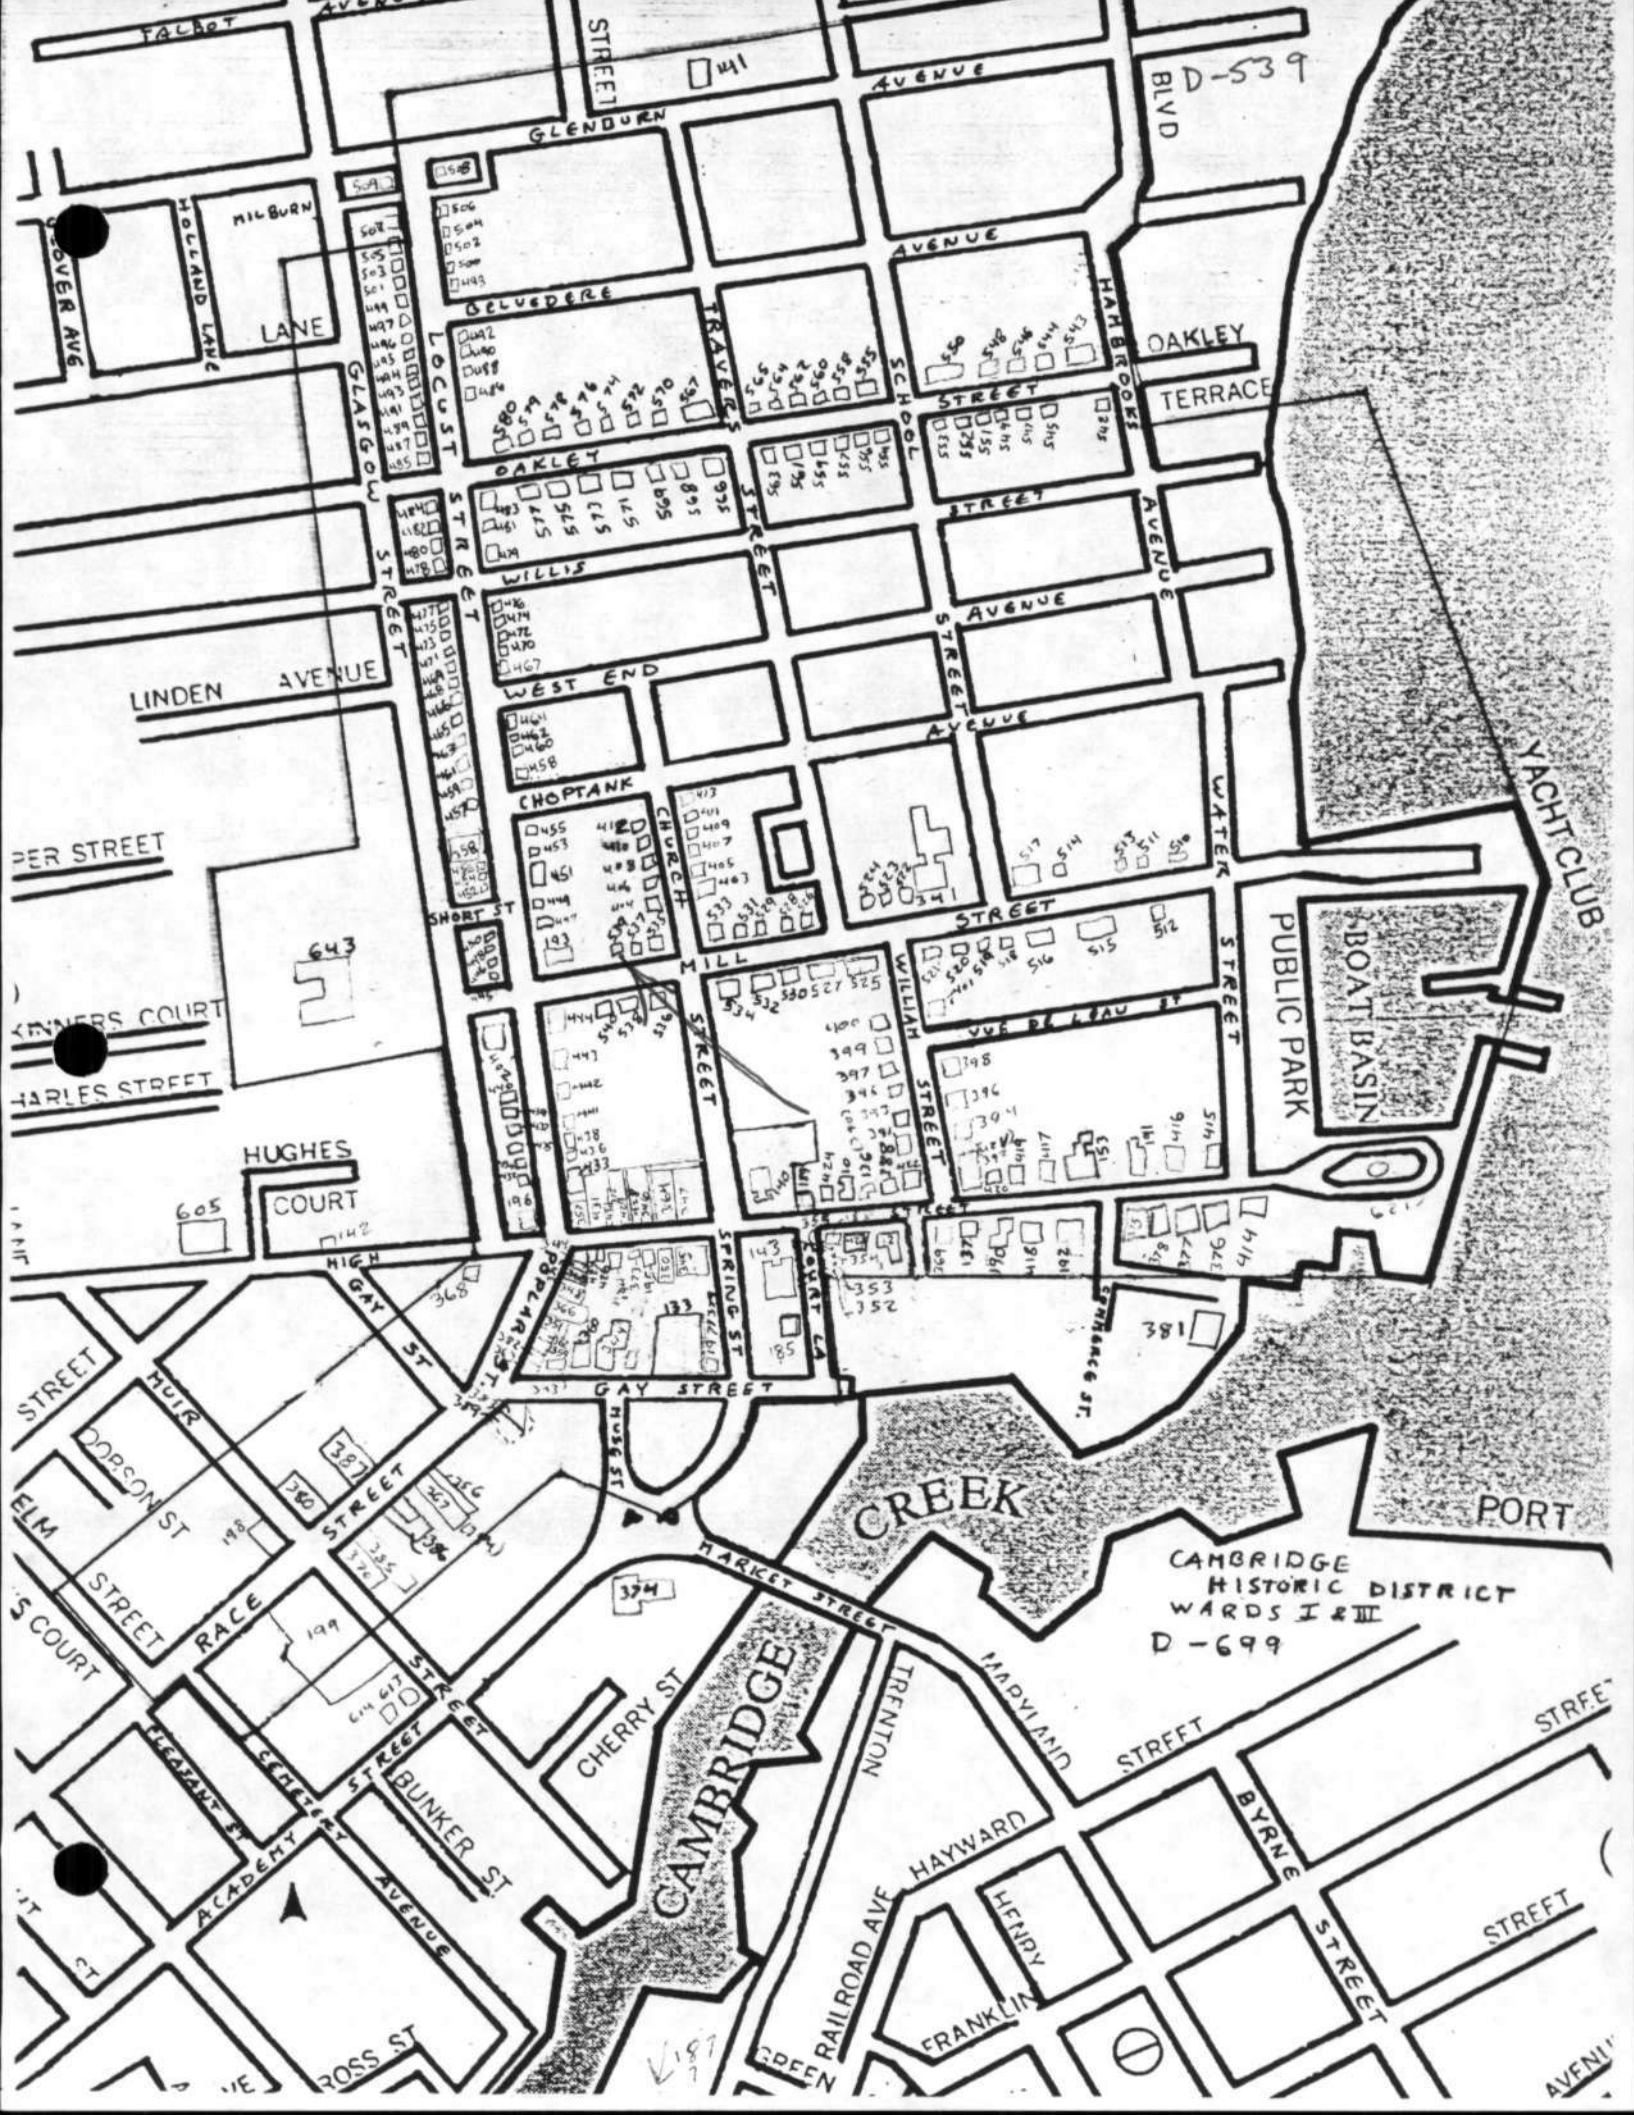

This house was built in 1895 by Governor Henry Lloyd at the same time as 313 Mill Street. It passed to Henry Lloyd, Jr. on his father's death, and since 1966 has been in the possession of Mrs. Emily Cator, the sister-in-law of Henry Lloyd, Jr. At one time the house may have been identical to 313 Mill Street, but it has been altered over time. The structure contributes to the turn of the century character of Mill Street, which contains a preponderance of houses built between 1890 and 1914.
